

DOCADEMIC TERMS OF USE

Last revised October, 2018

These terms and conditions of use (“Terms of Use”) govern your use of our telepsychology and telemedicine online interfaces and properties (e.g., websites and mobile applications) owned and controlled by Docademic, Inc., including the <https://docademic.com/>, <https://www.coolmotions.com/>, <https://MTC.Docademic.com>, and <https://doc.com> website and the associated docHealth and docEmotions mobile applications (collectively, the “Site”), as well as the services (“Services”) available to users through the Site. Docademic, Inc. (“Docademic”, “we,” “us,” and “our”) contracts with Docademic Provider Group P.A. (“Docademic Provider Group”) regarding online telehealth and telepsychology consultations and secure messaging between the Docademic Provider Group psychology and healthcare professionals (individually the “Provider” and collectively the “Providers”) and their patients. (See Section 20 for supplemental terms applicable to Providers.) The professional medical and psychological services (which are provided by Docademic Provider Group) and the non-clinical Site services (which are provided by Docademic) are collectively referred to in this Terms of Use as the “Services”. The terms “you” and “your” means you, your dependent(s) if any, and any other person accessing your Docademic Account.

Your acceptance of, and compliance with, these Terms of Use is a condition to your use of the Site and Services. By clicking “accept”, you acknowledge that you have read, understand, and accept all terms and conditions contained within these Terms of Use and our Privacy Policy <http://cdn.docademic.com/documents/legal/DocHealth/en-us/DOCADEMIC+TELEPSYCHOLOGY+WEBSITE+AND+APP+PRIVACY+POLICY.pdf>. If you do not agree to be bound by these terms, you are not authorized to access or use this Site or Services; promptly exit this Site.

Binding Arbitration. These Terms of Use provide that all disputes between you and Docademic that in any way relate to these Terms of Use or your use of the Site will be resolved by BINDING ARBITRATION. ACCORDINGLY, YOU AGREE TO GIVE UP YOUR RIGHT TO GO TO COURT (INCLUDING IN A CLASS ACTION PROCEEDING) to assert or defend your rights under these Terms of Use. Your rights will be determined by a NEUTRAL ARBITRATOR and NOT a judge or jury and your claims cannot be brought as a class action. Please review the Section below entitled Dispute Resolution; Arbitration Agreement for the details regarding your agreement to arbitrate any disputes with Docademic.

1. Privacy Practices

You agree that information provided by you in connection with the Services and Site shall be governed by the Docademic Privacy Policy <http://cdn.docademic.com/documents/legal/DocHealth/en-us/DOCADEMIC+TELEPSYCHOLOGY+WEBSITE+AND+APP+PRIVACY+POLICY.pdf>, which is hereby incorporated and made a part of this Agreement.

2. Services Provided – No Medical Care or Advice by Docademic

We offer an online communication platform for Providers and their patients to connect via the Site using synchronous and asynchronous telecommunications technologies. The Site facilitates communication between you and Providers.

Docademic does not provide medical advice or care, including psychological advice. Docademic contracts with Docademic Provider Group, an independent, provider-owned psychology group with a network of United States based Providers who provide clinical telehealth and telepsychology services. Docademic Provider Group Providers deliver psychological or medical services via the Docademic platform to their patients. Providers are independently contracted or employed by the Docademic Provider Group. Providers are not contracted or employed by Docademic. The Providers, and not Docademic, are responsible for the quality and appropriateness of the care they render to you.

The Providers are independent of Docademic and are merely using the Site as a way to communicate with you. Any information or advice received from a Provider comes from them alone, and not from Docademic. Your interactions with the providers via the Site are not intended to take the place of your relationship with your regular health care practitioners, primary care physician, or psychological services provider. Neither Docademic, nor any of its subsidiaries or affiliates or any third party who may promote the Site or Service or provide a link to the Service, shall be liable for any professional advice obtained from a Provider via the Site or Service, nor any information obtained on the Site. Docademic does not recommend or endorse any specific Providers, tests, physicians, medications, products, treatments, or procedures. You acknowledge that your reliance on any Providers or information delivered by the Providers via the Site or Service is solely at your own risk and you assume full responsibility for all risks associated herewith.

Docademic does not make any representations or warranties about the training or skill of any Providers who deliver services via the Site or Service. You will be provided with available Providers based solely on the information you submit to the Site. You are ultimately responsible for choosing your particular Provider.

The content of the Site and the Services, including without limitation, text, copy, audio, video, photographs, illustrations, graphics and other visuals, is for informational purposes only and does not constitute professional medical or psychological advice, diagnosis, treatment, or recommendations of any kind by Docademic. You should always seek the advice of your qualified health care professionals with any questions or concerns you may have regarding your individual needs and any medical or psychological conditions. All information provided by Docademic, or in connection with any communications supported by Docademic, is intended to be for general information purposes only, and is in no way intended to create a doctor-patient or provider-patient relationship as defined by state or federal law. While Docademic facilitates your selection of, and communications with, Providers, Docademic does not provide medical or psychological services, and the doctor-patient and provider-patient relationship is between you and the Docademic Provider Group Provider you select.

Not for Emergencies

IF YOU ARE EXPERIENCING A MEDICAL EMERGENCY, YOU SHOULD DIAL “911” IMMEDIATELY.

Docademic’s Site and Services are not for medical emergencies or urgent situations. You should not disregard or delay to seek medical advice based on anything that appears or does not appear on the Site. If you believe you have an emergency, call 9-1-1 immediately. If you are experiencing suicidal or self-harm thoughts or tendencies, you should immediately call the National Suicide Hotline at 1-800-273-8255.

You should seek emergency help or follow up care when recommended by a Provider or when otherwise needed. You should continue to consult with your primary provider and other healthcare professionals as recommended. Always seek the advice of a physician or other qualified healthcare provider concerning questions you have regarding a medical condition and before stopping, starting, or modifying any treatment or modification.

Risks of Telepsychology and Telehealth Services

By using the Services, you acknowledge the potential risks associated with telehealth and telepsychology services. These include but are not limited to the following: information transmitted may not be sufficient (e.g. poor resolution of images) to allow for appropriate medical or psychological care decision making by the Provider; delays in evaluation or treatment could occur due to failures of electronic equipment; a lack of access to your medical records may result in adverse drug interactions or allergic reactions or other judgment errors; although the electronic systems we use incorporate network and software security protocols to protect the privacy and security of health information, those protocols could fail causing a breach of privacy of your health information.

Prescription Policy

Neither Docademic nor Docademic Provider Group endorse any specific medication, pharmacy, or pharmacologic product. Providers do not provide or prescribe medications or pharmacological products, including any DEA controlled substances or scheduled medications, or certain other drugs which may be harmful because of their potential for abuse. Providers reserve the right to deny care for actual or potential misuse of the Services.

Not an Insurance Product

Neither Docademic nor Docademic Provider Group are insurers. The Services are not insurance products, and the amounts you pay to Docademic or the Docademic Provider Group are not insurance premiums. If you desire any type of health or other insurance, you will need to purchase such insurance separately.

3. Availability of Services

Docademic and Docademic Provider Group operate subject to state and federal regulations, and the Services may not be available in your state. The personal information shared may include information regarding your name, date of birth, demographic information, medical history, physical and psychological conditions, diagnoses, treatment recommendations, images, studies, labs, and any other information you share with your Provider. The information shared under the License Agreement may also include protected health information (“PHI”) (as defined by the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (“HIPAA”) and the Health Information Technology for Economic and Clinical Health Act (the “HITECH Act”), as amended from time to time, and patient health data as defined under any other applicable federal and/or state patient health data privacy laws and regulations (including those laws and regulations governing the privacy of mental health and substance abuse patient records). You have the right to revoke your consent for the License Agreement, in writing, at any time by sending such written notification to Docademic at 333 SE 2nd Avenue, Suite 2000, Miami, Florida, 33131. 20. Supplemental Terms Applicable to Providers

These supplemental terms apply to Providers in addition the other provisions of these Terms of Use. In the event of a conflict between the supplemental terms and any other terms herein, the supplemental terms shall prevail.

To be a healthcare or psychological service provider using the Site ("Provider" or "you") you must be a licensed professional contracted or employed by Docademic Provider Group, and must agree to comply with all laws, board rules and other rules and regulations applicable to you as a Provider or otherwise. Your relationship with the Docademic users (including your Docademic Provider Group patients) is directly between you and the patient. The patient will never have a physician-patient relationship with Docademic. Docademic does not practice medicine or psychology and offers no medical or psychology services. As set forth more fully below, Provider is solely responsible for all agreements, consents, notices and other interactions with patients and other consumers. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, Provider and Docademic Provider Group is solely responsible for all billings and collections from patients and other consumers, and Docademic shall have no liability whatsoever to Provider with respect to any amounts owed by any patient or other consumer to Provider.

Docademic does not provide any medical advice, psychological advice, legal advice, or representations in any way regarding any legal, psychological, or medical issues associated with Provider, goods or services offered by Provider, including but not limited any compliance obligations or steps necessary to comply with any state or federal laws and regulations. Provider should seek legal counsel regarding any legal and compliance issues, and should not rely on any materials or content associated with the Services in determining Provider's compliance obligations under law. Provider and Docademic agree that Docademic is not providing, to Customer or anyone else, medical, psychological, or legal advice.

Provider will use the Site and Services only in accordance with applicable standards of good medical and psychological practice. While software products such as the Site and Services can facilitate and improve the quality of service that Provider can offer patients, many factors, including the provider/patient relationship can affect a patient outcome, and with intricate and interdependent technologies and complex decision-making it is often difficult or impossible to accurately determine what the factors were and in what proportion they affected an outcome. Provider shall be solely responsible for its use of the Site and Services, and the provision of medical and psychological services to Provider's patients. In this regard, Provider releases Docademic and waives any and all potential claims against Docademic as a result of Provider's use of the Site and Services, and the provision of services to Provider's patients.

As a result of the complexities and uncertainties inherent in the patient care process, Provider agrees to defend, indemnify and hold Docademic harmless from any claim by or on behalf of any patient of Provider, or by or on behalf of any other third party or person claiming damage by virtue of a familial or financial relationship with such a patient, which is brought against Docademic, regardless of the cause if such claim arises for any reason whatsoever, out of Provider's use or operation of the Site and Services. To the extent applicable, Provider will obtain Docademic's prior written consent to any settlement or judgment in which Provider agrees to any finding of fault of Docademic or defect in the Site or Services. Docademic will promptly notify Provider in writing of any claim subject to this indemnification, promptly provide Provider with the information reasonably required for the defense of the same, and grant to Provider exclusive control over its defense and settlement.

If you submit, upload, transmit, or post any consents, notices, advice, recommendations, comments, files, videos, images or other materials to us or our Site (“Provider Content”) or provide any Provider Content to patients or other consumers, you agree not to provide any Provider Content that (1) is defamatory, abusive, libelous, unlawful, obscene, threatening, harassing, fraudulent, pornographic, or harmful, or that could encourage criminal or unethical behavior, (2) violates or infringes the privacy, copyright, trademark, trade dress, trade secrets or intellectual property rights of any person or entity, or (3) contains or transmits a virus or any other harmful component. Provider is solely responsible for obtaining all necessary agreements and consents from, and providing all required notices to, patients and other consumers. You agree not to contact other users through unsolicited e-mail, telephone calls, mailings or any other method of communication. You represent and warrant to Docademic that you have the legal right and authorization to upload all Provider Content at the Site. Docademic shall have a royalty-free, irrevocable, transferable right and license to use the Provider Content however Docademic desires, including without limitation, to copy, modify, delete in its entirety, adapt, publish, translate, create derivative works from and/or sell and/or distribute such Provider Content and/or incorporate such Provider Content into any form, medium or technology throughout the world. Docademic is and shall be under no obligation (1) to maintain any Provider Content in confidence; (2) to pay to you any compensation for any Provider Content; or (3) to respond to any Provider Content.

Docademic does not regularly review Provider Content, but does reserve the right (but not the obligation) to monitor and edit or remove any Provider Content submitted to the Site. You grant Docademic the right to use the name that you submit in connection with any Provider Content. You agree not to use a false email address, impersonate any person or entity, or otherwise mislead as to the origin of any Provider Content. You are and shall remain solely responsible for the content of any Provider Content you post to the Site or provide to patients or other consumers. Docademic and its affiliates take no responsibility and assume no liability for any Provider Content submitted by you or any third party.

21. Dispute Resolution; Arbitration Agreement

We will try work in good faith to resolve any issue you have with Site, including Services ordered or purchased through the Site, if you bring that issue to the attention of our customer service department. However, we realize that there may be rare cases where we may not be able to resolve an issue to a customer's satisfaction.

You and Docademic agree that any dispute, claim or controversy arising out of or relating in any way to these Terms of Use or your use of the Site, including Services ordered or purchased through the Site, shall be determined by binding arbitration instead of in courts of general jurisdiction. Arbitration is more informal than bringing a lawsuit in court. Arbitration uses a neutral arbitrator instead of a judge or jury, and is subject to very limited review by courts. Arbitration allows for more limited discovery than in court, however, we agree to cooperate with each other to agree to reasonable discovery in light of the issues involved and amount of the claim. Arbitrators can award the same damages and relief that a court can award, but in so doing, the arbitrator shall apply substantive law regarding damages as if the matter had been brought in court, including without limitation, the law on punitive damages as applied by the United States Supreme Court. You agree that, by agreeing to these Terms of Use, the U.S. Federal Arbitration Act governs the interpretation and enforcement of this provision, and that you and Docademic are each waiving the right to a trial by jury or to participate in a class action. This arbitration provision shall survive termination of these Terms of Use and any other contractual relationship between you and Docademic.

If you desire to assert a claim against Docademic, and you therefore elect to seek arbitration, you must first send to Docademic, by certified mail, a written notice of your claim ("Notice"). The Notice to Docademic should be addressed to: Attn: Legal, Miami Wells Fargo, 333 SE 2nd Avenue, Suite 2015, Miami FL 33131 ("Notice Address"). If Docademic desires to assert a claim against you and therefore elects to seek arbitration, it will send, by certified mail, a written Notice to the most recent address we have on file or otherwise in our records for you. A Notice, whether sent by you or by Docademic, must (a) describe the nature and basis of the claim or dispute; and (b) set forth the specific relief sought ("Demand"). If Docademic and you do not reach an agreement to resolve the claim within 30 days after the Notice is received, you or Docademic may commence an arbitration proceeding or file a claim in small claims court. During the arbitration, the amount of any settlement offer made by Docademic or you shall not be disclosed to the arbitrator. You may download or copy a form Notice and a form to initiate arbitration from the American Arbitration Association at www.adr.org. If you are required to pay a filing fee, after Docademic receives notice at the Notice Address that you have commenced arbitration, it will promptly reimburse you for your payment of the filing fee, unless your claim is for more than US $10,000.

The arbitration will be governed by the laws of the State of Florida, the Commercial Arbitration Rules and the Supplementary Procedures for Consumer Related Disputes (collectively, "AAA Rules") of the American Arbitration Association ("AAA"), as modified by these Terms of Use, and will be administered by the AAA. The AAA Rules and Forms are available online at www.adr.org, by calling the AAA at 1-800-778-7879, or by requesting them from us by writing to us at the Notice Address. The arbitrator is bound by the terms of these Terms of Use. All issues are for the arbitrator to decide, including issues relating to the scope and enforceability of these Terms of Use, including this arbitration agreement. Unless Docademic and you agree otherwise, any arbitration hearings will take place in the county (or parish) of your billing address. (If you reside outside of the United States, any arbitration hearings will take place in your country of residence at a location reasonably convenient to you, but will remain subject to the AAA Rules including the AAA rules regarding the selection of an arbitrator). If your claim is for US $10,000 or less, we agree that you may choose whether the arbitration will be conducted solely on the basis of documents submitted to the arbitrator, through a telephonic hearing, or by an in-person hearing as established by the AAA Rules. If your claim exceeds US $10,000, the right to a hearing will be determined by the AAA Rules. Regardless of the manner in which the arbitration is conducted, the arbitrator shall issue a reasoned written decision sufficient to explain the essential findings and conclusions on which the award is based. If the arbitrator issues you an award that is greater than the value of Docademic's last written settlement offer made before an arbitrator was selected (or if Docademic did not make a settlement offer before an arbitrator was selected), then Docademic will pay you the amount of the award or US $1,000, whichever is greater. Except as expressly set forth herein, the payment of all filing, administration, and arbitrator fees will be governed by the AAA Rules. Each party shall pay for its own costs and attorneys' fees, if any. However, if any party prevails on a statutory claim that affords the prevailing party attorneys' fees, or if there is a written agreement providing for payment or recovery attorneys' fees, the arbitrator may award reasonable fees to the prevailing party, under the standards for fee shifting provided by law.

YOU AND DOCADEMIC AGREE THAT EACH MAY BRING CLAIMS AGAINST THE OTHER ONLY IN YOUR OR ITS INDIVIDUAL CAPACITY, AND NOT AS A PLAINTIFF OR CLASS MEMBER IN ANY PURPORTED CLASS OR REPRESENTATIVE PROCEEDING. Further, unless both you and Docademic agree otherwise, the arbitrator may not consolidate more than one person's claims with your claims, and may not otherwise preside over any form of a representative or class proceeding. The arbitrator may award declaratory or injunctive relief only in favor of the individual party seeking relief and only to the extent necessary to provide relief warranted by that party's individual claim.

If this Agreement to Arbitrate provision is found to be unenforceable, then (a) the entirety of this arbitration provision shall be null and void, but the remaining provisions of these Terms of Use shall remain in full force and effect; and (b) exclusive jurisdiction and venue for any claims will be in state or federal courts located in and for Miami, Florida.
